

科目名	アメリカ史B		科目 コード	E53003	単位数 時間	2単位 30時間	対象 学年	2年	開講 学期	後期
区分	専門教育科目	選択必修	担当者名	エドワード・フォーサイス			授業 形態	講義	単独
授業の 概要	In this course, students will learn about late 20th Century American History and how it shaped the lives and culture of Americans.
到達 目標	The course focuses on American history from the late 1960s through today. Students will be required to perform research projects on a variety of topics of late 20th Century American history and present them in class.
授 業 計 画
回	主 題		授 業 内 容 (授 業 時 間 外 の 学 修 を 含 む)					備 考
第1回	Course Orientation and Teacher Intro		Instructor explains course objectives
第2回	The Cold War		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第3回	The 1960' s		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第4回	1960 – 1970		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第5回	Student Presentations		Students will do presentations on a topic related to the American history timeframe discussed in the previous three weeks.					Presentation
第6回	1970 – 1980		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第7回	1980 – 1990		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第8回	1990 – 2000		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第9回	Student Presentations		Students will do presentations on a topic related to the American history timeframe discussed in the previous three weeks.					Presentation
第10回	9-11 and its Aftermath		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第11回	The Gulf War		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第12回	The Technology Revolution		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第13回	America in the 21st Century		Students will learn about American history events during this time period.
第14回	Student Presentations		Students will do presentations on a topic related to the American history timeframe discussed in the previous three weeks.					Presentation
第15回	Presentations & Course Review		Feedback will be given on student presentations and the course content will be summarized.
評価 方法 及び 評価 基準	Classroom Participation: 25%; Student Presentation (content, style, and materials): 75%.
教材 教科書 参考書	There is no required textbook for this course; this course is very technology-based and students will be provided materials to support the lesson topics throughout the course. Students must have access to a computer with Internet access and will need materials to take notes during course topic lectures.
留意点	Attendance is required to pass this course. Students missing a Student Project Presentation day may result in a failing grade for the presentation.									