Go Abroad!

We held our regular introduction of study abroad programs here at HiroGaku. Are you interested in going abroad? There are lots of different places you can do. Even if you don't have a big budget, you can still go and learn English from real English speakers.

For learning English, you can go to America for a long-term study abroad program. We have an exchange program with the University of Wisconsin La Crosse campus. You can go for a semester to learn English! You get to experience living in a university dorm, and see what university life is like for students in the US.

You can also go on a short-term program to learn English and other languages. We have partnered with Ryugaku Times to offer a wide range of programs. You can spend a few weeks in countries across the world studying language. This is a great way to learn both language and the culture of other countries.

TIPS TO PREPARE

It is possible to go on a study abroad program, even if you don't have a lot of money!

There are 26 months until the junior-year summer program and saving 10,000円 each month = 260,000円

(15,000円 X 26 mos. = 390,000円)

(20,000円 X 26 mos. = 520,000円)
